

New Beginnings

January is a month that makes many of us think of New Beginnings. At Restore Canada, that is what we are about as well. Assisting individuals and families, helping them move towards New Beginnings, helping people find new homes they can afford, and connection to resources that seemed unreachable a few months prior.

In 2017, we have trained 26 new Care Planners and look forward to training many more in the days to come. All our Care Planners are currently engaged in caring for and working alongside people in distress. We are indeed looking for more Care Planners.

REACHING OUT

Not long before Christmas, a single mom called us. The landlord had just left, and she needed to pay up or move out. This mom is a hard working woman and, just with the stuff of life, found herself behind. On top of this, she was suffering severe headaches as a result of stress, and now was wondering if she and her children would have to move into a family shelter.

We paired her with a Care Planner, and together they came up with a plan. We were able to help her meet her obligation and even give her a hamper at Christmas. She has said that she will never forget the kindness and the help given. She is doing well now, and life is looking much brighter!
